

Dr Hamid BOUNOUIRA, CNESTEN, Rabat, Morocco

Biography: Dr. Hamid Bounouira is the Head of the Neutron Activation Analysis Laboratory at the National Center for Nuclear Energy, Science, and Technology (CNESTEN-Morocco). He received a double PhD degree from the Pierre and Marie Curie University in Paris in Environmental Geoscience and from the Ibn Tofail University in Kenitra in Nuclear Physics (2007). His expertise lies in Neutron Activation Analysis (NAA) and its applications, contributing significantly to this field. He has served as an expert for the International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA) in various coordinated projects and has an extensive academic record, with over 50 articles published in prestigious international journals. Dr. Bounouira has delivered more than 100 presentations at international conferences and congresses, and he has supervised more than 20 PhD and Master's students throughout his career.